

About the Thiel Hospitality House

The Thiel Hospitality House is operated by the Western New York Rural Area Health Education Center, Inc. (R-AHEC). Seed money for the construction was provided by the Community Foundation of Greater Buffalo, William F. Thiel Trust Fund.

The Thiel Hospitality House, which opened in 2005, is located on the hill behind the Wyoming County Community Hospital in Warsaw, NY and is adjacent to the R-AHEC Learning Center, our headquarters.

The main objective of the Thiel Hospitality house is to provide affordable housing to health profession students completing rural clinical rotations, on-call or visiting medical professionals and families facing a health care crisis.

In 2018 the house went under a major renovation project which included upgrades to bedrooms, common areas, and technology.
